

BAHMET 23/7A

BAHAMAS MARINE FORECAST

MARINE FORECASTS FOR THE BAHAMAS ISSUED BY THE BAHAMAS DEPARTMENT OF METEOROLOGY AT 6:00 A.M. EST, Monday, January 26, 2026, FOR THE NEXT 24 HOURS. THE NEXT SCHEDULED FORECASTS WILL BE ISSUED AT 12:00 P.M. EST.

WARNINGS:	A Near Gale Warning (28 – 33 knots) will come into effect for the Northern, Northwest and Central Bahamas Monday 6pm through 5 pm on Wednesday. Occasional gusts to gale force are possible across the mentioned areas. Boaters, especially small craft, are urged to return to and remain in port until further notice. For additional public information, please view our Public Forecast on our website, met.gov.bs.
GENERAL SITUATION:	A high pressure ridge is drifting northeastward across the Bahamas ahead of a cold front that is schedule to enter the Northern Bahamas by early evening. Widely scattered showers and isolated thunderstorms are ahead and along the front while fresh to strong winds and rough seas are expected behind. Across the remainder of the country a few quick passing showers are expected.
	Outlook: Moderate to strong winds with gusts to near gale force beginning in the Northern islands by night and spreading into the Northwest and Central islands Tuesday and Wednesday. This system will generate another round of cooler temperatures through midweek before stalling just north of the Southeast Bahamas. A reinforcing front will quickly follow by early Thursday morning, eventually merging with the previous front and will exit the country that evening. This will allow temperatures to dip towards more comfortable values across all areas by the end of the work week.
