

BAHAMAS PUBLIC FORECAST

BAHAMAS PUBLIC FORECAST FOR TONIGHT, TOMORROW AND THE NEXT SIX (6) DAYS, ISSUED BY THE BAHAMAS DEPARTMENT OF METEOROLOGY AT 6:00 P.M. EDT, Saturday, October 3, 2026. THE NEXT SCHEDULED FORECAST WILL BE ISSUED AT 6:00 A.M. EDT TOMORROW.

WARNING IN EFFECT:

There are currently no public warnings in effect at this time.

High pressure is maintaining a gentle to moderate breeze and smooth to slight seas throughout the country. Meanwhile quick passing showers and an isolated thunderstorm will stream across the country through tomorrow due to the interaction between an upper-level low and a surface trough.

GENERAL SITUATION:

Outlook: The upper-level disturbance is expected to move across the southeastern islands late Sunday, increasing shower and thunderstorm activity across the area. By Monday, the disturbance will shift south of the region toward the Caribbean Sea, while weak high pressure remains in place, keeping occasional showers in the forecast. By Tuesday, a frontal boundary is expected to move into Central Florida and remain mostly quasi-stationary through the remainder of the week, weakening the wind regime while bringing increased cloudiness and shower activity across portions of the northern territories.

SPECIAL WEATHER NOTES:

Rip Currents: There is a slight to moderate risk of rip currents across all Atlantic waters. Beachgoers and swimmers are urged to exercise caution.
